SESE	Science – Research the Lifecycle of a Salmon. Watch the video here http://www.somethingfishy.ie/kids_zone_lesson3.html and use this helpful diagram https://www.marine.ie/Home/site-area/areas-activity/fisheries-ecosystems/salmon-life-cycle to write facts and draw about the different stages lifecycle of the salmon. Do other fish have a similar lifecycle? Look up the word 'anadromous'. Where in Ireland would you find salmon? What are the rules governing salmon fishing? Why do you think these are in place? Have you eaten salmon before? Where would it fit on the food pyramid?
SPHE	Food and Nutrition – The aim this week is to appreciate the importance of good food and nutrition for growing, developing and staying healthy. Research the food pyramid. Which foods are most/least nutritious? Can you name some common foods that belong to each section? How many servings of each should you have daily? Draw a pyramid and fill it in with clippings from magazines/by drawing pictures/or designing labels in your A4 hardback. Keep a record of your meals for the week using the headings Carbohydrates/Protein/Dairy/Fruit Vegetables/Fat. Did you eat from each level daily? Was one more popular than the other? Why do you think that is? As you get older you will have more personal responsibility over your food choices and it is important to realise what wise food options are leading to a healthy, balanced diet.

*Find some items at home that are measured using the units of litres, millilitres. Make a chart. Estimate their capacity before looking at the bottle/can. Were you close? During the week use a calculator to check your answers. Go back and try again if it's wrong. You can do it. Try your best.

**This week you will get an email address directly to me! I cannot wait to hear from you all. Whether it's to ask for extra work, additional learning resources, games, answers to your Mental Maths and New Wave, to send me work to check or just to say hello, I'll be here.

***I hope you are getting plenty of DEAR time in during this lockdown. "That's the thing about books. They let you travel without moving your feet" J. Lahiri

****Those of you that are exempt from Irish could still take part in Tuesday's and Thursday's lessons in English. Please email me for different literacy activities to keep you on track 😊
